The central Pack Horse Bridge at Hockenhull Platts. The three fine sandstone bridges date back to about 1470, the same date, as the building of St James' Church. This middle age bridge was covered in graffiti last autumn but has now been completely restored by stone masons. However closer examination has revealed a structural problem with part of the stonework, and repairs will probably need to take place during the summer.

Message from our Rector

One of the most memorable occasions for any priest is to preside at the Eucharist for the first time.

There is perhaps no greater privilege than to preside at the Lord's table, breaking bread and pouring wine, just as our Lord did with His disciples.

On Saturday 14th June 2014, Barbara King our curate, will (God willing) be ordained to the priesthood at a service at Chester Cathedral. Barbara will preside at the Holy Communion for the first time on Sunday 16 June, here at St James, at our 10.45am service of Holy Communion.

Just a few weeks ago, a celebration service for the 20th anniversary of the first women to be ordained in the Church of England was held, with many of those first women ordained, present at the service. The Church of England has certainly come along way in twenty years, but there is still more to do, if true equality is to be seen in the Church.

I recall a sermon preached many years ago, when the preacher said he was offered a meal of spaghetti, only to proclaim "I don't like spaghetti"......"Have you ever tasted it, he was asked".....No, he replied, but I know I don't like it"

The Church of England faced similar hostility twenty years ago, by many in the church, both lay and ordained, when the issue of women being ordained to the priesthood was debated.

Some years ago, I was invited to consider a move to a parish in Chichester Diocese. Joyce and I arranged to meet with the movers and shakers of the parish, and to consider if this might be God's will for us. As we sat in the sun chatting with the parish representatives, and listening to hopes and plans of the parish, we were suddenly joined by another ordained minister (she was licensed to the parish, and had just arrived after conducting a funeral) as we chatted, it became clear that this minister was a deacon in the Church of England.

I asked if she had ever considered Ordination to the priesthood, to which she replied that she really felt God was calling her to priesthood, but her heart was also calling her to serve the people of this parish.

It was only then, that the penny dropped, and I realised, that the Bishop of this particular Diocese, was opposed to the Ordination of women to the priesthood. So this wonderfully gifted and able minister was unable to pursue her vocation to the priesthood.

Over the twenty years since the first Ordination of women to the priesthood, many gifted, capable, and remarkable women have quietly gone about the ministry entrusted to them by God, and have changed hearts and minds with their gifts and by living out their calling.

And to those who still consider women have no place in the church, consider this Who was the first people to see the risen Christ ? Who was regarded as the first documented convert to Christianity in Europe.

Women have been part of the Christian message since the beginning.....Amen to that

Your Servant,

Malcolm.

Palm Sunday Procession

Lucius the donkey, together with Mr & Mrs Cashin his owners, once again helped us celebrate Palm Sunday by leading a procession of villagers carrying palm crosses across the fields from Littleton to St James' Church.

Last year we had to cancel the procession due to deep snow lying across the fields, but Lucius still appeared in the snow earlier that day at Barrow Church, and this sequence was used to good effect in the production of the "Mystery Plays" at Chester Cathedral, both in initial publicity in the press and on television, and during the performances.

The 2014 procession started after prayers at Pearl Lane said by the Rector, Revd Malcolm Cowan who was accompanied by Rev'd Barbara King. Four children carried large palms at the head of the procession and everyone else took their palms from the beautiful saddlebag on Lucius' back.

Prayers were said at two other points on the journey, the second by the Morris Oak, and the procession was welcomed by Parishioners along the churchyard and outside church. We said goodbye to Lucius after another successful visit to Christleton, before the Palm Sunday service concluded inside the church. Thanks to Mr & Mrs John Carr for helping transport Lucius to and from the event in their horsebox. DC

The History File

Did I see a Zeppelin??

Reading an article recently about an Airship being built at Cardington and due to be launched at the end of the year recalls another childhood memory. Until the age of seven I lived in one of a row seven newly built semidetached houses at the end of a farm lane. At the end of the row was a stile into farmland and a footpath to Ledsham and Capenhurst. I used to go into the fields with my father and I can remember the cries of the curlews as they fed amongst the pasture land and the song of the skylarks as they soared overhead.

Now sadly the farmland along with the birds has gone replaced by an ever increasing housing estate.

One summer's day when I was about four or five my mother let me go into the field by myself, things were more relaxed in those days, and as I walked amongst the corn I heard a noise in the sky. A cigar shaped object came from the direction of Capenhurst and flew towards Ellesmere Port.

I rushed home to tell my mother but she hadn't seen it. When my father came home I tried to tell him but he didn't know anything about it either. I have since read that about that time a Zeppelin flew from Germany to Manchester on its way to America with a view to setting up a service. Did I see it or was it an aeroplane heading for Hooton Aerodrome now the site of the Vauxhall Car Factory. [Two of the original hangers are still there]

I hope it was the Airship, but I will never know.

Ben Williams

Footnote – Passenger Airships flew from 1928 until the Hindenburg disaster in 1937

Footnote 2 from David Cummings

I have two separate accounts of an Airship being seen over Chester & Christleton. The first is from Cynthia Siddall President of the Christleton W I who remembered that she had seen one fly over the Queens' School in Chester when she was a pupil.

The other was from the late Anthony Barrington Brown a famous photographer and traveller who lived with his grandparents Mr & Mrs Dolphin at Stoneydale in Pepper Street, whilst his parents were working as Geologists in South America. I spent a delightful evening some years ago talking to him about his childhood memories of living in Christleton in the 1930's. He remembered very clearly seeing an airship coming over the house in Christleton, I think there is a strong possibility that it could be the same one that Ben saw. We'll have to try and investigate the matter further as websites exist these days, with this sort of detail. DC

Nature Notes

The Parish comes alive with bird song, and the pitter patter of tiny feet!!

This has been a remarkable spring with most migratory bird species arriving early from their wintering grounds in Africa. Wheatear were followed by the smaller songbirds, which started arriving with good numbers of chiff chaff, black cap, whitethroat, and both grasshopper and sedge warblers. Swallows and House martins also arrived before the start of May, and swifts are expected any day now. That means most of our expected arrivals are back, but we had the added bonus this year of two redstarts. However it seems that the cuckoo is very elusive again this year with only one report from the village, although Beryl & I heard one recently at our camp site near Ludlow, together with the unmistakeable song of a yellowhammer which sadly, has also completely disappeared from the area.

There were also surprise visits from a red kite, seen over both Waverton & Rowton, and from a common sandpiper and several curlew flying over Hockenhull. The new lake to the north of the bridges at Hockenhull has proved to be very interesting, with visits by shoveller, shelduck, merganser, goldeneye, oystercatcher, lapwing as well as hundreds of black headed gulls in recent weeks. The regular sighting of a kingfisher seems to suggest breeding close by along the Gowy, and the number of fresh spraints and footprints seen on exposed sandy patches along the riverbank, seem to indicate that we have a pair of breeding otters. An adult with two young has been captured on a night vision camera, and the two adults were both seen after dusk on the river near the bridges. This is a remarkable transformation from the situation only ten years or so ago when otters were absent from most of the country, but the cleaning up of most of our rivers has resulted in the delightful return of these wonderful but elusive creatures. I've read that the otter will drive out the smaller aggressive mink, and we can only hope that they increase in numbers and enter our canal system, as it's now clear that a mink was responsible for killing our female swan last month. I'm told that a number of mink have been seen in and around the canal recently, although I haven't seen them myself. I hope to bring you pictures of the otters next month. DC

Why Pentecost makes Christ accessible

Suddenly a sound like the blowing of a violent wind came from heaven and filled the whole house. (Acts 2:2) Christianity is more than a fading memory scrapbook. The day of Pentecost came, to make our Lord accessible, even to the newest follower!

Imagine the late Nelson Mandela arriving at Heathrow Airport. On stepping onto the tarmac a group of admirers and friends wave to him excitedly from the airport roof. But instead of lingering with them, he only waves briefly, and is immediately whisked away. Yet any disappointment among his friends is tempered later, when they see Mandela in a major TV programme addressing himself not only to them but to an entire nation. His removal from them had been essential if he was to have been made available to many millions more.

During Jesus' earthly ministry, no more than a limited number of people could be near enough to hear him, let alone speak to him or touch him. His Ascension – followed by Pentecost - was to change everything to a global dimension. Earlier he had reassured his disciples, "I will not leave you as orphans, I will come to you....It is for your good that I am going away. Unless I go away, the Counsellor will not come to you; but if I go I will send him to you....(John 14:18; 16:7). To have the Holy Spirit is to have the very presence of Jesus in your life.

The mystery of Pentecost. The coming of Christ's Spirit – 'the Counsellor' - reminded people of a wind (unseen, yet powerful in its effects) - and of prophecies such as Ezekiel 37:9. Christians have always loved these vivid descriptions of the Holy Spirit wind, fire, oil, water, a dove.

The sovereignty of Pentecost. 'The wind blows where it wills' said Jesus to Nicodemus (John 3:8). So was the Spirit's working in Acts 2 - suddenly there were new believers swept into the Church of Jesus Christ - from lands all around the Mediterranean basin. Don't say the Gospel can't work in certain places and people. It has! It does.

The energy of Pentecost. At the start of Acts 2, there were about 120 believers in the church. By the end of the day they had ballooned by over 2,000 percent. And today? Why, to take the statistics of Africa alone, for every little African baby being born today, there will be two Africans becoming followers of Jesus. Pentecost is a phenomenon worldwide!

People in the News

Mrs Betty Ellis

Congratulations to Mrs Betty Ellis who celebrates her 90th Birthday on June 11th 2014. With sincere good wishes from her friends in the Parish and at St James' Church.

THANK YOU

A very big thank you to all those kind & thoughtful people who sent messages, get well cards, made telephone calls and generally enquired about my health following my recent stay in hospital.

I'm making slow but steady progress and looking forward to returning to full duties. John Milton

TRAGASOL PRODUCTS, HOOTON

Ben Williams' recollections in last month's magazine about Hooton Water Works and Tragasol Products brought back memories of the latter for me, as I was involved with the design and building of part of that production plant. When Tragason closed we employed Colin, their Chief Engineer. Shortly after joining us he was discussing with a client the difficulty in reducing hard locust beans to powder via a grinder fitted with beaters rotating at high speed which quickly wore out, plus an integral screen which repeatedly blocked up and held up production.

The client had spent thousands of pounds trying, without success, to overcome the problem and asked Colin whether he had experienced the same difficulty. "Oh Yes, said Colin, we just removed the screen." The client was reduced to tears of laughter at such a simple solution. I only wish that we could find practical project engineers such as Colin today. Alf Croston

Pentecost:-The Holy Spirit is to the Church what air is to every human being. Air surrounds us so completely that we sometimes forget it is there. We breathe it continuously without always realizing what we are doing. So it is with the Holy Spirit. He empowers our lives. He deepens our faith. He motivates our mission. And he demonstrates beyond the shadow of a doubt that God has a plan for all people – to know Jesus as Lord and Saviour. AMEN!!!

Reminder ???? Its next month ???? Christleton Village Show 2014 Is on Saturday 12th. July In Christleton Parish Hall

This year the show theme will be Commemoration of Heroes as it is the centenary of the outbreak of WW1.

Schedules are available from Christleton Village Stores, Ring O Bells as well as St James Parish Church, Christleton Methodist Church and committee members.

Christleton Village Show - Coming soon Sat 12th of July

Matt:6 vs 28 & 29 "And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin:" "And yet I say unto you, That even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these".

Acts 4:32 "And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and of one soul: neither said any of them that ought of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common".
